DISCLAIMER:

By submitting this application for the COA, you certify that all the information you supplied on this form is correct. When your resident status is no longer as described above, you must surrender your COA to the airport manager as you are no longer authorized to use the RNAV approach at Spruce Creek Airport. Only the holder of the COA is authorized to exercise the privilege of this approach. Therefore, you may only make copies of the approach plate for personal use. Without a COA, no one else can use the approach plate for any reason. The FAA will take certificate action should this occur.

I, _____, hereby acknowledge that I have read and understand the above application process and have not omitted important and pertinent information.
